DEEP RIVER

A Message from our Music Director Peter Morris

" The DRSO has enjoyed success and strong support over the five seasons since my arrival in 1992. This year we are being a little more adventurous in engaging soloists - partly to celebrate, and partly to thank you for your continued enthusiasm for the DRSO and the world's great music. We are looking forward to the thrills, spills and excitement of another season; but most of all we look forward to sharing our music with you, your family and your friends. See you there!"

Deep River Symphony Orchestra

Our 45th season

In 1952, a group of friends began meeting regularly to make music together, from time to time giving concerts to other music lovers in the town. In 1997, the Deep River Symphony Orchestra is much the same friendly group, sharing the world's great music with neighbours and with their children in the schools. Today we have a resident professional music director, and we work hard with him to attain ever higher standards of performance. We are proud of our achievements. Our music comes from our hearts and will enter yours.

We have had some great musical moments in recent seasons. Do you remember the Messiah, Haydn's Creation, the magic of the Bach double concertos for two violins and for violin and oboe or Bruch's Kol Nidrei?

For our 1997-98 season a special treat is in store. With the help of the Deep River Community Association and other generous donors we will be bringing you a cornucopia of professional soloists with a bounty of musical delights.

If you are an old friend of the DRSO, why not share the fun with us again, this season. If you have never known the thrill of a live symphony concert, now is your chance of a lifetime. Come as you are, relax in a comfortable seat, and let the music immerse you in an unforgettable experience.

Funding for the Deep River Symphony Orchestra

The member players of the DRSO receive no remuneration and support the orchestra by their donations. The Ontario Arts Council has awarded the DRSO a grant for the coming season, and the Town of Deep River assists our student program. The Deep River Community Association is sponsoring the February 1998 concert.

Donations to the DRSO from the audience are used to enrich performances by engaging additional professional players, to subsidize the membership costs of student players, and to help keep ticket prices affordable for all. Your donation would be much appreciated and will qualify for an income tax receipt. Please consider adding a donation when you buy your subscription.
